Candidates for the job of superintendent of the Children's Home must make an application to take the civil service examination. Blanks for this application may be obtained as soon as they are received here.

The application blank should be sent to the State Civil Service Commission at Columbus, and the applicant will be given a card which entitles him to take the examination, whenever it is held.

CHAPLIN PLANS TO FIGHT COURT AWARD TO WIFE

Los Angeles Tribunal Grants
Lita Grey Temporary Alimony of $4,000 Month

New York, Jan. 18.—Charles Chaplin announced today through his attorney, Nathan Burkan, that he would fight the award by the Superior Court at Los Angeles of $4,000 monthly alimony to his wife, Lita Grey. Chaplin's screen comedian is recovering from a nervous breakdown at his attorneys' apartment here.

Discussing the court decree in Los Angeles, Burkan said: "We certainly shall contest that award. Mr. Chaplin waited two months in California before he left the state the papers were served. It is all part of a scheme of Mrs. Chaplin, her family and her lawyers to get a lot of cheap publicity. It was cooked up for just that purpose."

LAST RITES FOR F. J. HAAS TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Services Will Be Conducted at St. John's Reformed Church;
Burial Here

Arrangements were completed today for the funeral of Frederick J. Haas, 57, prominent Richland township man who committed suicide yesterday morning by hanging himself in the barn at his farm, seven and a half miles south-east of Marion.

Services will take place at the Haas home at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. John's Reformed Church in Richland township at 10:30 o'clock, followed by burial in Marion cemetery.

Assign Cause
It has been given as the cause of the suicide, Mr. Haas had been suffering from hardening of the arteries for several months and at times became despondent over his condition.

Circumstances connected with the suicide indicate that Mr. Haas decided to take his life not more than a half hour before the deed was committed, as he had made arrangements for a trip to Marion with his wife and had gone to the barn to start his automobile. They had planned to visit a doctor's office here, both husband and wife having been in ill health for some time.

Mrs. Haas, ready to start on the trip to Marion, went to the barn to ascertain the cause of her husband's delay and found his dead body hanging from a tree. She had suspended from a beam over one of the managers. He had jumped from a partition in the manger and was probably instantly killed. He had been dead less than an hour when Mrs. Haas found his body.

Wildly Known
Mr. Haas was widely known throughout the county and eastern parts of Marion County, having lived in Richland township during the greater part of his life. He was regarded as being in comfortable circumstances financially, being the owner of two farms.

The only surviving relatives, aside from the widow, are one sister, Mrs. W. J. Burge, of Mt. Gibson, and four brothers, John, William, Philip and Samuel Haas, all of Cleveland.

Mr. Haas was born in Richland township on May 10, 1859, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Haas, both natives of Germany. His mother's maiden name was Eva Ebert.

Mr. and Mrs. Haas were married in Wabash on Feb. 22, 1880 and since that time had lived in Richland township, with the exception of a few years during which they resided in Marion. They returned to their farm home from this city about four years ago.

TODAY

CHAPLIN PLANS TO FIGHT COURT AWARD TO WIFE

Los Angeles Tribunal Grants
Lita Grey Temporary Alimony of $4,000 Month

New York, Jan. 18.—Charles Chaplin announced today through his attorney, Nathan Burkan, that he would fight the award by the Superior Court at Los Angeles of $4,000 monthly alimony to his wife, Lita Grey. Chaplin's screen comedian is recovering from a nervous breakdown at his attorneys' apartment here.

Discussing the court decree in Los Angeles, Burkan said: "We certainly shall contest that award. Mr. Chaplin waited two months in California before he left the state the papers were served. It is all part of a scheme of Mrs. Chaplin, her family and her lawyers to get a lot of cheap publicity. It was cooked up for just that purpose."

SPECULATE ON FORTUNE'S STRENGTH

Los Angeles, Jan. 18.—Hollywood and Los Angeles today were wondering just how long Charlie Chaplin's fortune, variously estimated at from $100,000 to $1,000,000, would be able to stand the concerted drives being made against it by the United States Government and by attorneys representing the comedian's 18-year-old wife, Lita Grey. Chaplin, who is seeking a divorce from her famous husband.

Chaplin today asked ordered by a Los Angeles court to pay Mrs. Chaplin $4,000 a month temporary alimony pending the outcome of her divorce action. In addition the comedian must pay $5,000 to his wife at once to cover maintenance for the last two months, also $1,000 as a part fee for her lawyers, $2,150 to pay for bonds under which receivers have taken over the Chaplin properties and $250 for attorneys' expenses.

Under the terms of the noted comedian was defendant in six income tax suits aggregating $1,073,700 filed by the United States Government in Los Angeles on the ground that Chaplin's tax returns for six of the last ten years had revealed alleged irregularities.

Rumors on Possible Result
Added on top of all this was the report that Mrs. Chaplin would probably be awarded at least half of her husband's fortune, if not more, in the event she won her divorce action.

The million dollar alimony asked in the government suits constitute penalties and forfeitures and differences between the amounts declared by Chaplin and the amounts the government estimates as due from his examination of his records and returns for 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1924.

Reports from San Francisco indicated that a fight in behalf of Chaplin had been instituted in that city with the filing with the State Supreme Court of a bill seeking to restrain the receivers and secure time and to take over and administer the comedian's California holdings. The writ asked that the receivers be restrained from following out the orders of such receivers. The writ was denied.

Up to Chaplin
Attorneys for Mr. Chaplin announced today that the next move in the sensational controversy would be up to Chaplin and his attorney.

"The court's action speaks for itself," they said, "has justly determined the proper and reasonable amount necessary for Mrs. Chaplin and her children, and that Mrs. Chaplin is the proper person to have custody of the children."

FIRE VICTIMS WITHOUT FURNITURE IN HOME

Charles Jones Family Rents
House After Blaze Destroys
Dwelling and Possessions

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, left practically destitute when their family of seven small children as the result of their home and all of its contents being burned up by fire last Friday, have rented a dwelling at 907 Leest but are absolutely without means for providing it with furniture.

Today neighbors and other friends of the stricken family decided to issue an appeal for aid to citizens of Marion. Charles M. Tobin, head of the city's relief bureau, has been placed in charge of the case and this morning announced that he is prepared to receive donations of furniture, clothing and other supplies for the unfortunate family.

Living With Friends
In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Jones and their children are living temporarily with friends in various parts of the city. The parents are anxious to get their flock together again and start anew in the rented home on Leest.

The fire which swept the Jones home on Thompson street completely wrecked the property. The only clothing remaining in the family's possession was that which the parents and children wore at the time of the fire.

The property was insured but the family will be entirely without funds until a settlement is effected with the insurance company, which may not come for a week or more.

Mr. Tobin announced today that donations of furniture, wearing apparel and other necessities may be left with him or taken directly to the property at 907 Leest, where the family will be housed.

LUMBER MILL TO BEGIN WORK HERE THIS WEEK

Owner To Again Petition Council
To Furnish Outlet for New Plant

Albert Seiter, Prospect township owner who is starting operation of a hardwood lumber mill in the so-called section of the city this week, will appear before City Council again in an effort to obtain a street extension which is needed to provide an outlet for his new plant.

Mr. Seiter stated today that the new industry will be in operation with a force of about 15 men before the close of the week in spite of council's refusal to grant his request for an outlet. A side driveway located on the Pennsylvania Railway right of way at the east of the plant is to be used temporarily but a wide thoroughfare is necessary in order that the mill may run at full capacity, Mr. Seiter states. He has requested that Gillas be extended south to the mill property. And if this is done, he states, it will be large enough to convey logs into the plant and as a consequence operations will be considerably restricted.

May Appear
It is possible that Mr. Seiter will appear before council at his meeting Wednesday night for the purpose of seeking a solution to his problem, he stated today. Several weeks ago he asked the city to start condemnation proceedings to obtain land for the City as an extension but council has refused to do this unless he agrees to pay all of the expense. Mr. Seiter states that he will agree to this if assured that the cost will not be excessive.

Parts of three lots are needed for the street extension. J. M. Jolly and John Huffman, owners of two of the lots have agreed to deed their share of the street without charge but Mr. Seiter has been unable to come to terms with heirs of the late John H. Kinsler, owners of the third lot. Condemnation proceedings will probably be necessary to fix a price on the Kinsler land.

SALE OF DOG TAGS BY MAIL LATEST METHOD

County Auditor-Elect Thomas
Says Checks Must Be Sent by Jan. 20

Selling dog tags by mail is the latest method of getting in this revenue from dog owners throughout Marion County. With only two days in which dog owners may purchase tags for their pets without paying a penalty of $1, Auditor-Elect Thomas said today that dog owners could save themselves time and money by sending in a check for the dog tags, and the license and tags would be mailed back to them. Applications by mail for dog tags must be mailed on or before Jan. 20. After that date mail applications will be given the penalty the same as any other kind.

Dog licenses will cost $2 and $1, instead of $1 and $3 after Thursday. The penalty will be tacked onto all licenses issued beginning Friday morning.

License numbers now have reached the 2,000 mark, but even this figure is several hundred below last year, and more than 700 have the number issued two years ago. County officials have been promising action on handing up dogs without licenses and limiting the owners into court, but so far no arrests have been made.

His Service Bespeaks the Man.

We wouldn't have minded a little bit had we been present at the meeting of the Erie Veterans' association at Hotel Harding Sunday afternoon. It would have been something of a treat to us to see and hear men who had spent half a century in service for one line—men like that Mr. Edgar, of Nankin, who has served for fifty-five years; men like the Erie agent at Mingo with fifty-three years of service; men like the conductor from the New York division with a record of forty-eight years; or that veteran of them all from Hornell with seventy-three years of service to his credit.

Men do not spend approximately half a century in service as have these men, or half that as have many others present Sunday, unless they are pretty evenly-balanced men, good men and good citizens. They are not the men who get much space on the first page, possibly. On the other hand they are not the kind of men who go up like rockets and come down like sticks. They may never attain the heights in the many channels of life which lead to fame, but they are the safe, conservative dependable people who never fall to the world's depths. They are good husbands and fathers, good neighbors and friends. They are those who make this life of ours really worth the living.

Communist Activities.

We have made several references recently to the relentless warfare being waged by the communists against the American Federation of Labor. It is again called to the attention of the public, published Monday, by the following investigation made by the federal bureau of investigation of these enemies of a just and free workers' strike.

The report of the investigation of a recent President William Green, of the federation, was one, was issued with the approval of the federation's executive council. In brief, it is that communist agitators, under the name of workers' strike in New York, of which the last spring, terrorized citizens and manufacturers alike with the aim of straitening their pockets and failed or refused to account for their expenditure of over $500,000 of the funds of the strikers.

Tracing the activities of the communists in the fur workers' union since the Boston convention of 1925, when they gained control, the report of the investigators says that, when the New York strike was called, all of the funds of the union were turned over to a strike committee the members of which, with a single exception, were either avowed communists or communist sympathizers. When the strike was called off, it was discovered that the strike committee had spent more than $375,000. At least the members of the committee claimed they had expended in excess of this amount, but they absolutely refused to account for more than $194,735 of their expenditures, save to assert that the balance had been expended for hall rent, picketing and miscellaneous expenses.

The report charges that, through an attorney, the communist leaders bribed attorneys of the New York district attorney's office and members of the industrial squad to help them in a reign of terrorism. The testimony about this line taken by the investigators, the federation announcement says, was simply shocking and would convince even those who have to prove of "America, the Meeting Place" that the meeting place isn't working.

Early efforts of President Green to end the strike, the report asserts, were thwarted by the communist leaders, who were in daily conference with a New York fur importer, who is named, who is known as the owner of a Soviet concession valued at approximately $200,000.

It is pleasing to note that coincident with the sending out of the federation's announcement, a New York story told of the capital from the Algonquin Club, communist and active agitator in many so-called labor battles, the rate against expansion being only twenty in a total vote of over 500. During the discussion preliminary to the vote and following Gilroy's attempted defense, it was charged by Manager Abraham Beckerman of the Algonquin Club that Gilroy had tried to bribe the vote against expansion being only twenty in a total vote of over 500. During the discussion preliminary to the vote and following Gilroy's attempted defense, it was charged by Manager Abraham Beckerman of the Algonquin Club that Gilroy had tried to bribe the vote against expansion being only twenty in a total vote of over 500.

Now we come to the point we wish to make. The American Federation of Labor is doing its part to rid its ranks of communists and other direct agitators. Hundreds, say you, have been expelled by it. That is as far as it can go. But if the actions of these communists have been such that the Federation of Labor no longer is willing to tolerate them, what excuse has the government for not deporting them? There is little doubt but what the federation would be glad to give the government such a line on their activities that the establishment of grounds for deportation would be easy.

Is it not about time for the government to increase its activities against the enemies of all government? Isn't the time at hand to cease dillydallying with all these direct agitators? Isn't it about time that all of them are rounded up and sent out of the country? Just at present we are doing a lot of worrying, at least the government is, about the activities of the communists in Mexico and Nicaragua. It's our belief that it would be far better to worry less about the communist activities outside our land and worry more about communist activities here at home.

The women entrants, with two exceptions, didn't do much of a figure in that Catalina swim, but the most of them got their fingers into the pictures, and that may be all the most of them wanted, after all.

If our winter weather continues as it has of recent years, we can see the earthly reason why we aren't justified in advertising our town as an ideal winter resort, absolutely free from the enervating weather which is so often experienced by our southern seacoast and Gulf cities.

A distressing phase of the situation is that, if we do not go to war Mexico, and it is hardly probable that we will, the communists, bolsheviks, pacifists, parlor pink and direct actionist elements of the Federal Council of Churches will assume that it was because of their efforts to protect their social friends, whereas, as a matter of fact, it will be in spite of them.

Poems That Live.

THE GROVE.

Agazed the lark, twilight, dithers, dinner
Thy crown, my crown, of winter morn,
On frozen buds, embosomed the old chimney
Of Indisposed, the ferns, the ferns, the ferns,
Around grey rocks, from which dripped pigeon
herbs,
Rich drops of blood, the velvet
Of drifting Indian, pear and wane, dithers,
Relieved the bright no-man's-land of green.

There was a school, too, much taught and scattered,
The dithers, the dithers, the dithers,
As dithers, the dithers, the dithers,
And dithers, the dithers, the dithers,
Such was my school, too, much taught and
scattered,
Sprawled out, from which dripped pigeon
herbs,
Old dithers, the dithers, the dithers,
For men to show, the dithers, the dithers,
And dithers, the dithers, the dithers.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE!

Causes of Epilepsy Not Known.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Though many years epilepsy has been called the "falling sickness." The attack is announced by the loud cry and fall of the victim. He drops to the floor unconscious.

There are three types of epilepsy. One is called the grand mal, another the petit mal, and the third the psychomotor.

When I was in the third or fourth grade there was a boy in my school who had a fit about once a week. It was always my job to take care of him. That is when I first had the idea to be a doctor.

This boy would give a terrible scream and fall out of his seat. Then there would be a series of convulsions, the eyes rolled upward and pretty soon the lips were covered with foam.

One of the common things in epilepsy is for the victim to bite his own tongue. When this happens the froth at the mouth is streaked with blood.

After the convulsions die down sleep comes, and this may last for several hours. On awakening the epileptic may seem somewhat confused, but is quite unconscious of what has happened.

About always there is a period between the teeth and teeth years. It is doubtful if seizures which come on for the first time in adult life are ever true epilepsy.

Many theories have been set forth to explain the attacks of epilepsy, and many causes have been suggested. Heredity, alcoholism, blood disease—these have many advocates. But we have much yet to learn in this matter.

There can be no doubt that various reflexes must be regarded as exciting causes, if not actually the fundamental causes of a certain group of cases. For instance, eye strain, worms, teething and other painful irritations may be responsible for the seizures. Dietetic errors must not be overlooked.

It is a sad thing to have one of the family the victim of epilepsy. No wonder the relatives grieve at every possible cause of relief.

In every case very careful study must be made of the individual patient. The eyes, teeth and general organs must be examined to make sure there is no defect or disease which may be responsible for the trouble.

It is particularly important to make absolutely sure the stomach and intestines are functioning normally. It is surprising what serious, indeed what profound, poisoning of the nervous system can result from long-standing intestinal trouble. I should not consider that everything possible has been done until the digestive organs are returned to normal condition.

There is another disease known as "Jacksonian epilepsy." In this consciousness is not lost, or at least there is a delay in the onset of unconsciousness. The victim has time to get a pillow and lie down.

Kidney or blood troubles are likely to be at the root of this form of epilepsy.

Every person who has fits of any kind should be carefully studied by experts. The removal of some remote disturbance may bring about a cure of the disease.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

P. C. Q. Is there any cure for flat feet?

A. Consult an orthopedic surgeon.

R. L. W. Q. What do you advise for protruding ears, can it be cured?

A. Consult a plastic surgeon.

G. R. Q. What is the cause of a dull pain and numbness in the left leg from the thigh to below the knee—especially after walking? I am over fifty.

A. May be due to poor circulation or over exertion. Massage should help you to some extent. If it persists see your doctor and have him advise you.

J. E. D. Q. What can I do to get rid of a small spot of dry skin?

A. Your diet has great bearing in this condition. It might be advisable to have your urine examined, particularly for albumen, sugar and indican. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

W. D. Q. What treatment do you advise for catarrhs? Can the sight be restored?

A. The patient should see an eye specialist, who will advise the necessary treatment. Each case demands special attention. In many instances the eyesight is completely restored.—Copyright, 1927.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. Who said "Welcome the coming, speed the parting guest"? E. H.

A. Homer used the expression in "The Odyssey."

Q. In what state was daylight saving observed as a statewide measure? H. L.

A. Daylight saving was in effect during the summer of 1924 in New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts. No other state passed a statewide measure for this purpose, although there were various local regulations.

Q. Whose poetry is most widely read? L. D.

A. Probably Omar Khayyam's comes first. His quatrains are read, recited and sung in all parts of the world.

Q. How much is a German bank note for 10,000 marks worth now? M. P.

A. The German bank note is quoted at 23.75 cents. Prior to June 3, 1925, German paper marks were converted at the rate of one trillion paper marks to one Reichsmark. They are of no value now.

Q. Is the government paying more or less income tax this year? O. M.

A. Income tax collection shows an increase over last year. For the six months ending June 30, 1926, the total collected was $108,000,000 more than of the same period, 1925. Almost $88,000,000 of this increase was corporation taxes.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

There is an interesting idea of Professor Patterson of Yale. He would find out what the life of a man is like by a study of the atom. He says that an entirely new science theory which will enable us to reproduce the theory of God in modern science. At the present status of our knowledge, however, this is impossible. The scientific method that most leading scientists are working in the universe, but mechanism is not the light on this mechanism which may reveal the meaning of the creative being. Right here is where life calls for an achievement of faith.

A British inventor is working on a new kind of telephone which will present the picture of the caller and his surroundings at the other end of the wire. If that thing works it will forever put an end to the kind of the telephone husband who says he is delayed at the office.

A complete answer to those who fear the danger of too much buying on the installment plan is found in the bank deposits of the rank and file of banks. Doubt has been cast on the credit structure of installment buying. Hoover, secretary of commerce, says bank savings were higher in 1924 than in any other year in the history of this country. In spite of so much use of the installment plan these savings remained on a enormous surplus.

With bank deposits rising up don't worry about what looks like extravagance. A Russian scientist says spots on the sun indicate there will be another great war in two years. He says a momentary war have followed periods of a quiet activities. The soul of man must be superior to its environment even when environment includes an spot. Let's not agree to be the victims of a theory.

Talking with Europe over the phone is the most interesting scientific development of the hour. It has now reached the crucial stage, where nobody can duck just to prove that he can. —Youngstown Vindicator.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS.

Farm hands on the big ranches like to sit around and talk, like other folk. And every once in a while, a fellow among them, just wants to tell a lot of tall tales about himself. These guys get to be popular, because everybody likes to hear how far they'll go in faking up hero tales about themselves. I've heard a lot of stories from the farm hand fellows that brag that they, but most of the stories are just plain hog wash that ain't funny unless you know the guy that tells them well enough to tell him a hard knock joke like.

One of these fellows was telling the boys about his experience in the war.

"Ain't I can right at 'em," he says, "knockin' 'em right and left, when some tall general up and shoots me right through the chest, here on the left side. The bullet went right on through and come out my back, and I never stopped goin' until I'd bumped off that general."

"But if the bullet went through you there it woulda hit you right in the heart, and that'd kill you."

"Well," says the guy with the tall tales, "I suppose it woulda killed me if it hit me in the heart. The surgeon said I was damned lucky that my heart was in my mouth at the time!"

Who's Who and Why.

HAROLD G. MONTGOMERY.

Harold Glenn Montgomerie, economist, was born at Leroy, Michigan, November 7, 1883. Specializing in political economy at the University of Chicago, he returned that department as an instructor, becoming an associate professor of that subject until 1925, when he left to assume the position of director of the Institute of Economics at Washington. How Prohibition Has Failed.

Three million more persons had savings deposits; holiday savings funds broke all records; building and loan association assets show big increase; demand for investment securities extraordinary. These are a few of the many facts which show how prohibition "fails"—The Christian Science Monitor.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MONTYRE.

New York, Jan. 15.—Trick dinners are being revived by these generous hosts with elaborate bank rolls. They are expensive efforts to put up the faded souls who agonize that will probably bring about a dinner offer a super that these days the best finds himself all alone with the butler. At a recent dinner the butler was dressed up to represent Venice. There were real canals with miniature gondolas and beaming voiced gondoliers.

At another on Park avenue a mammoth apartment was fashioned into a wild frontier town with saloons, Indians, post boxes, horse saloons and dance parlors. Roilers and fairs furnished. It is said the host lost $10,000, lankling the game aside from the cost of the party.

The expensive stunt dinner is not new. It flourished in the nineties. Reggie Vanderbilt celebrated his twenty-first birthday with a star that set him back $22,000. The figure for twenty-two guests cost $500 each. The famous "salway dinner" was another expensive affair.

It was given by promoters of the enterprise. The table was shaped to represent the city way lines. Toy electric trains carried food and drink in gastronomic order. The most unusual dinner perhaps was the one given by J. G. Lillings, a celebrated attorney.

It was held at old Sherry's and ran on a splendid horse. So excited, the crowd of a sumptuous fare from table built upon feet high. The waiters carried food up stairs and afterward guests rode to Central park in a gallop around the bridge path.

Still another talked about dinner was set at which Jerome Siegel was host. The dinner was given a red and red and in every dish, which the host had in a boat of his room in the center of the dinner-room. The guests were immediately prepared by a French chef.

There is one trick dinner that is said to have been a stage star from many friends. He was invited as guest of honor. He was brought from all walks of life. The cafe was very one of the moment—and he was a prodigious eater. The dinner was sold, oysters, beef and fish, a terrific old and smelly. Salad was brought in, and the guests were served. The dinner was a success and the host was a success.

old lady said as he passed the statue of Liberty.

"But why in heaven's name do they want it?" I exclaimed. "It's a perfectly ordinary handkerchief. I examined it again and again."

"That is just what we want to find out," said Claypole. "I've a notion that it's about the best clue we shall ever get to the operations of the gang. Anyhow, it's important enough to get them kidnapping a citizen of the United States in broad daylight. We're properly on the trail this journey. That's as plain as the way to parish church."

Our further conversation was interrupted by the entry of several passengers, the rattling of chains and the buzz of the engine telegraph. Looking up, I saw we were alongside a wooden pier and amid the lights of the city of Geneva. Claypole seized hold of my arm.

"Stick close to me," he said.

We got up, and our reckoning, and joined the crowd which was pressing towards the gangway.

There was an official standing at the end of the pier collecting tickets from the passengers as they disembarked. Beside him was Baldassare Marce, I judged Claypole.

"Shure," he whispered. "I've seen the gargoyle. But he doesn't say any more at this time in the affairs of money. I must admit that I did not share the cool assurance of my companion. I could not wholly master my tremors on perceiving, as we moved nearer to the ticket collector, that the swivel eye of Signor Marce was taking the passengers. We soon drew level and I handed up both tickets. Marce saw us at once and stepped directly in our way.

Before he could say anything, however, Claypole went straight up to him, and looked him quietly up and down.

"Good evening, daze," he said. "Nighly friendly of you to meet us. But we're pressed for time just now, so we'll just say good day. Make a noise like a tree and leave, will you?"

He pushed past him, Marce gasping in astonishment, but offering no resistance. He looked baffled.

I saw the reason a moment later, for Claypole stepped again in front of a large and magnificently upholstered gentleman.

"The central police station, please," said Claypole briskly, in French.

The gentleman looked at him, but the office is closed, Monsieur.

"Not to this child," replied Claypole, and he held out something in his hand which I could not see.

The gentleman looked at it, and his expression changed.

"I will call a taxi for Monsieur," he said.

"Thank you," said Claypole.

We followed in the wake of the gentleman to where a taxi stood by the pavement. The gentleman opened the door and we crept in.

Claypole his head out of the window, looked back smilingly at Marce, whose suppressed emotions had caused him to flush a dull purple.

"Guess that guy won't be needing any pink pills for pale people this evening," he remarked, as the taxi moved away.

As we drove to the Hotel de Ville, I asked Claypole why he had not committed Baldassare on a charge of assault.

"I'm not to catch bigger fish than Marce," he replied. "We shall have to pay out a good deal more of the heavy coin before we really invite these boys to hang themselves with same."

"But who are they?" I asked. "And who is the center?"

"I'll perhaps be able to put you closer about that when we have a moment to spare," replied Claypole. "The present job is to get the authorities to round up those things in Count Eulenspiegel's residence."

We settled that he should go with the police to the villa at Bedeville, where we had been confined, and that I should, if possible, proceed to the laundry and endeavor to obtain the handkerchief. Meanwhile, Claypole would ask for police protection for both of us. He did not dispute from him, and looked him quietly up and down.

Mrs. Henry C. Yeiser, Jr., of Cincinnati, O., daughter of the late Julius Fleischmann, yeast king, is believed to be the most heavily insured woman in the world.

On entering his presence Claypole produced the talisman he had already shown to the gentleman on the quay, and I perceived it to be a small metal token of some kind, stamped with a number and a star. At the same time he took from an inner pocket a small white packet, which he opened, and, taking out a folded document, spread it before the official.

"The Commissioner, a small man with an enormous black mustache, glanced at the document, looked it over and returned it to Claypole.

"And this gentleman's credentials?" he inquired, glancing at me.

Claypole explained that I was a private individual, who had already been of great assistance, and that he would return it to me in a few days.

Lillian prepares surprise

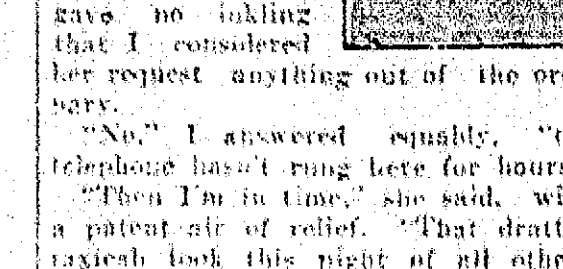

I KNEW better than to express my astonishment at Lillian's hurried entrance and brusque demand to know if anyone had yet telephoned to her. But I could not deny the feeling of curiosity which was mine. That she was working out some problem which troubled her I was sure, and I could not get rid of the suspicion that Mary Harrison, Dick's young niece, entered into in some way. But outwardly I gave no looking that I considered her request anything out of the ordinary.

"No," I answered equably. "The telephone hasn't rung here for hours."

"Then I'm in time," she said, with a patent air of relief. "That dratted taxicab took this night of all others to have something go wrong with its harness, and in the middle of Central City at noon. I took me almost a quarter of an hour to signal another one and I expected to be knocked down or arrested every minute."

"Sit down," I said with a smile at her doleful. "You'll be able to ease the taxi much more comfortably."

"I haven't time to sit down," she

Don't Let Colds Turn Into Catarrh

Authorities say 85% of all catarrhal cases start as common colds

When a cold is hard to "shake off," watch out! When a cold "hangs on" week after week, be suspicious! In nine cases out of ten this is the way catarrh starts. The mucous membranes become inflamed and congested, and the catarrhal condition soon becomes chronic.

Stop Frequent Colds

The delicate linings of nose and throat are very sensitive. Cold germs weaken them. Each attack makes them less resistant. You must get rid of the congestion and stored-up impurities. Then Catarrh disappears.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous membrane. It gently stimulates the delicate tissues to throw off the accumulated poisons. Nature then quickly restores tone, vigor and health.

A Proved Treatment

Ointments alone have proved ineffective. Salves give but temporary relief. To end catarrh, you must treat the cause.

This Hall's Catarrh Medicine does because it is a combined treatment—a tonic that acts thru the blood on the mucous membrane, and an ointment that soothes and relieves.

If you have colds, catarrh, sinusitis, catarrhal deafness or catarrhal bad breath, get Hall's Catarrh Medicine today. Ask your druggist. Price 65c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

AUTHORIZATION GIVEN CONCERN BY COUNCILMEN

Will Mean Increased Rates for Service. Officials Declare at Meeting

Mr. Gilead, Jan. 18.—The Mt. Gilead village council at its meeting last night passed an ordinance authorizing the local telephone company to install underground telephone cables throughout the village to supplant the present overhead poles.

It was stated that it would be necessary for the company to ask increased rates for the service, but that the council would be no higher than would be necessary if the present cables were replaced. The engineers stated that the cables now in use were old and would be replaced by new ones.

It was also planned to replace present phones, which have to be cranked to call the operator, by automatic ones which will eliminate cranking. It was stated that the automatic service will also expedite and improve local telephone service.

A resolution was passed to advertise for four insertions in the local papers for bids for a motor roller for the village streets. Bids will be received February 14.

The council decided to pay 50 percent of the cost of four car loads of lumber to be used on an extension of North St. The township trustees will pay the remainder. The streets will be in the corporation and half in the township.

The mayor was requested to notify persons against using the Victory flag for advertising purposes.

Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport

By Pat Murphy

THE pugilistic pot bubbles at Madison Square Garden as Tex Rickard sets his stage for one of the most important battles in boxing history.

While Fidel La Barba, flyweight champion from California, and Al Clark, champion of Europe's little men in that division, entered the final stages of training for the first international flyweight championship struggle since the days of Jimmy Wilde, which was held in the Garden Friday night, Rickard is working on plans for the first important battle in a coming heavyweight series.

He has been in conference with Pete Kelly, manager of Jack Delaney, in an effort to place a match between the light heavyweight champion and Jimmy Maloney, Boston slizzer. Kelly asked for a match with Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavy weight, who knocked out the Cuban champion, Ferro, in one round at Havana Saturday night, but was told that the Cuban did not wish such a match at this time.

Meanwhile betting commissions of several cities of 2 to 1 that La Barba would defeat the British challenger for world honors Friday night. The speed and punching power of the western youth, not yet 22 years old, is expected to count heavily in his favor over the comparatively short 12 round route. Clark, skilled veteran of 20, is admittedly more at home over a distance of 15 to 20 rounds.

In the opinion of athletic men and educators who attended the recent meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in New York, college athletics in America, in spite of the fact that they are now on the highest plane, morally and ethically, that they have ever been on.

A national statement dealing with the case of Christy Plamondon, pulled back on the Notre Dame football team, who was reported to have quit school until fall, has been given by a high university official.

The statement, which clears up the whole case, is as follows: "Mr. Christy Plamondon failed to return to the university with the Notre Dame varsity football team after the football game with the University of Southern California October 10, 1936. This was in direct violation of the regulations governing the team. As a result Mr. Plamondon was not permitted to finish the first semester's work."

"In the event that he returns to the university for the second semester, his status athletically will be decided by the faculty athletic board. If he returns in September he will, of course, be ineligible for further competition."

The organization of a Class B Western Association is expected to become an accomplished fact on January 9, when representatives of the eight clubs proposed for the new circuit will hold a meeting at Joplin.

When Hornsby and Sisler were playing a 300 day together at St. Louis was the capital of Wallepood, with something to spare.

Since that day Sisler has lost part of the spark in his batting eye and Hornsby has moved to New York. If the excitement is going again, as he should, he and Ruth should put on another dust while juggling the balance of batting power east from the Mississippi to the Hudson.

Hornsby and Ruth are two of the greatest first swingers baseball has ever known. Hornsby's failure last summer to hit a home run in the first game of the season, and Ruth's coming bounding lack to one of his great years, back in shape again, the new Giant should be the Babe's leading rival. Their combined salaries will be somewhere above $100,000 for the season.

C. D. & M. Wallops Huber Five; Osgoods Defeat Business College

By EDDIE SCHOFENBERG, Sports Editor, The Star

Repeating the acts staged in the first round of the Marion Industrial Basketball League seven weeks ago, the Huber Five, C. D. & M. and Osgood teams, last night defeated the Fairfield Engineers, Huber and Marion Business College, respectively, for the second time this season.

All defeats were losses last night than they were in the first round, signifying that, although the teams at the bottom of the league may have improved, the leaders in the league have improved just that much more.

Huber Service cagers, who won their first game with the Engineers by only two points, last night administered a 32 to 18 defeat to the Fairfield crew.

At that, it was the closest and most interesting game of the night. Technician of the Fairfield carried a horrid record of 10 losses and 10 wins. He dropped in six field goals and two free throws for a total of 18 points.

His team, Knickerbocker, scored five field goals. Lingo and Pardon each got three field goals for the Engineers.

The crushing C. D. & M. floor machine last night dominated another victory. The fighting Huber outfit fell before the onslaught of the league leaders, who frequently checked up their seven-point consecutive victory.

Huber never had a chance. They were defeated from the start, even if Miller was not playing back guard for the C. D. & M.

Huber got "hot" and dropped in eight field goals for the C. D. & M. and Padden connected for 12 points. C. D. & M. and Strine each scored three field goals for Huber.

After losing with the Marion Business College quarter during the first round, Osgood, last night, stepped lively and left the Fairfield in the lurch. The final score was 33 to 9.

The Fairfield made one field goal in the first half and that came in the first three minutes. Korman managed to drop in a couple in the second half.

All games last night were won by the Huber outfit. The Fairfield, however, lost the game in the first half and that came in the first three minutes. Korman managed to drop in a couple in the second half.

Bradleys Take Firmer Hold On First Place in National Loop

Bradley Drugs took a firmer hold on first place in the National Bowling League last night when they defeated the Marion Buicks in two out of three games on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. Marion came when they took three consecutive victories.

Motorcycles slipped back into the league this time the leading Buicks being defeated by the first two games but were unable to take the third when the Buicks hit the 855 mark. Wheeler and Williams of the Buicks were largely responsible for the victory in the last tilt.

Wheeler scored the highest mark on the alleys last night when he rolled 223 and Williams was close behind with 222. Warrick's 205 was high for Bradley.

Zelizer, with 203 points, led the Motorcycles last night while Shoemaker's 187 was high for Dugans. Bradley, with 555 pins, had the highest number of points for the three games.

Buffalo Lincolns to Play Shovelers Here Tonight; Great Battle is Promised

One of Best Games of Season Is Due When Two Stellar Aggregations Clash On Steam Shovel Gym Court; Both Teams Equipped with Stars

One of the best games of the season is due to be staged on the Marion Steam Shovel gym court, W. Center street, tonight, when the Buffalo Lincolns, led by one of the outstanding talents of the country, face the fast stepping Shovelers.

The Lincolns are equipped with a collection of stars from colleges and universities. They have played together for the last two months, taking the floor almost every night of the week. They have suffered few defeats and have been liberal in handing out more than the usual share of touchdowns to their opponents.

The Kenton Reds, composed of Kentons, left before the Lincolns a few weeks ago. The Kenton Reds are ready for battle and will be a man-sized affair.

The preliminary between two Shovel teams will begin at 7 o'clock, and the local team is ready for tougher opponents and are due to get them tonight.

The exact lineup for the Lincolns is not yet known. The Shovelers have had a very successful season so far, having suffered only two defeats and administered three wins over the opposition.

Johnson Calls Special American League Session

Chicago, Jan. 18. The storm brewing between baseball Commissioner K. G. Landis and President Ben Johnson of the American League, grew more intense today with the announcement of Johnson that he had called a special meeting of the board of directors of the American League for next Sunday, the day before the "show down" meet by Commissioner Landis.

The storm seems destined to blow one of the loudest from his high position in baseball.

At the American League meeting Sunday the directors will decide whether to suspend the rule which requires that all players who are charged with a crime must be suspended until they are cleared by a court of law.

Johnson, who is a member of the board of directors, has been charged with a crime and is currently on trial in Chicago.

Central Christians Cop Easy Victory from Presbyterians

The stellar basketball outfit performing under the colors of the First Reformed Church in the Junior Sunday School League made it four straight wins last night when they coped an easy victory over Epworth M. L. C. by defeating them 37 to 23 in the fourth game of the season.

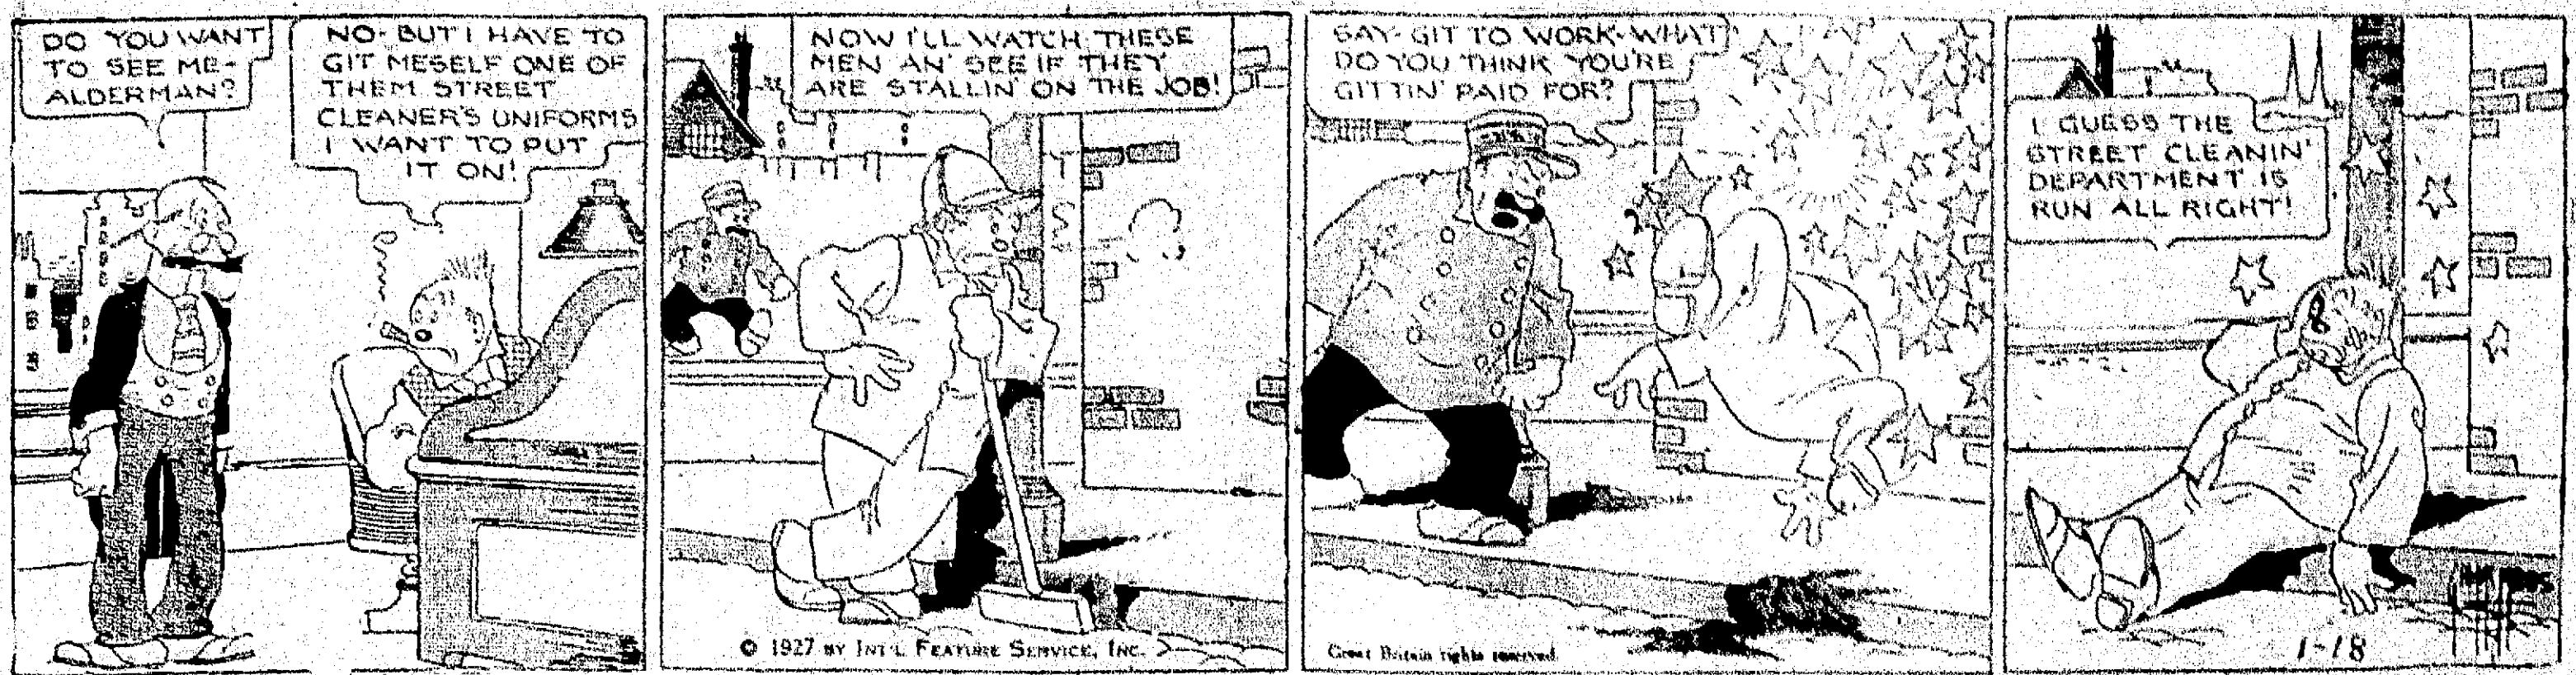

Central Christians won their second game of the season when they literally walked over the Epworth Presbyterians and strutted to a 42 to 12 triumph.

Epworth M. L. C. basketball team led 15 to 11 at the end of the half but had little opportunity to show their stuff in the first portion of the first half. The Reformed youth awakened to the fact that they

DISTRICT HEAD OF ROTARY IS GUEST OF CLUB

Charles Hartman, Toledo, Addressed Local Members at Hotel Harding

Charles Hartman, of Toledo, district governor of Rotary Clubs, was the guest and speaker Monday noon at the meeting of the Marion Rotary Club at the Hotel Harding. The occasion of Mr. Hartman's visit here brought the largest attendance of the club in several months, only two members being absent.

The program of Rotary throughout the world was discussed by Governor Hartman. "Based on ideal service," Rotary seeks to express this service through a regularly planned program, which gives to each club the basis of its own program," Mr. Hartman said. With a general program marked out by the officers of Rotary International, individual clubs may build up their own program, and stress those points in which they are able to give the greatest service.

Rotary Education
"Rotary education, classification of membership, business methods and boys' work have been the chief points of the Rotary International program the last year."

"Bringing to each member of a Rotary Club the fullest knowledge of Rotary history and ideals has been the object of the Rotary education program. By making each member cognizant of the high ideals and history of Rotary, the spirit of service is fostered," Mr. Hartman said, "and the work of the club brought to a higher plane."

"In the classification of membership Rotary International holds a distinctive place among such organizations, and it is through this classification that Rotary serves to the entire community function. One representative of each distinct business or profession alone makes up Rotary membership. This classification of membership gives a complete and representative membership of the community, and does not allow of domination of Rotary by any one business or profession."

Code of Ethics
"The Rotary code of ethics, famous as being the first one put forward, and the basis of more than 100 later codes of ethics put out by other organizations in another point in the Rotary International program. Mr. Hartman urged to members of the local club not only to study this code of ethics, but to adopt its practice in their business lives. To being clear thought and opinion on business practices, co-operation between members to eliminate unfair practices in business, and to stimulate active work along constructive lines of building up legitimate business methods is the object of the Rotary International study of business methods," Mr. Hartman said.

Boys' Work
"The fourth part of the program, boys' work, is one to which every club should give time and thought. To educate the boys of today for the responsibility which they must shoulder tomorrow is to act in the spirit of the highest ideals of Rotary. Not so much by speaking of such work, but by active example of the best citizenship should Rotary members seek to impress on boys the need of growing to be useful citizens."

Attention of local club members was called by President C. H. King to the convention of Rotarians at Toledo on April 21 and 22, and of the opportunity for many local Rotarians to attend this meeting. He announced that a committee would be appointed at the next meeting to handle the arrangements for this convention for the Marion Club.

OBITUARY

John Allen Hines was born in Clinton Township, Marion County, Ohio Nov. 3, 1862, the only son of Andrew and Louella Phelps Hines. He grew to manhood and lived his entire life in the vicinity where he was born. On Nov. 16, 1901 he was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle E. Coulter who survives him, with his aged parents, and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Morton and Mrs. John Ide and a host of relatives and friends. He followed the occupation of farming and stock raising and dealing, almost his entire life, and for the past two years was manager of the A. E. Monnette grain and lumber company until ill health forced him to resign.

He was an active member of the Methodist M. E. Church and Calanthe Lodge K. of L. at Calandonia. For the past year he has been a constant but patient sufferer, never complaining but always cheerful, till death relieved him of his suffering in the early morning hours on Jan. 8, 1927, just at the prime of life at the age of 64 years 2 months and 7 days. His cheerful disposition and honest business principles endeared him to all who knew him, and his presence will be greatly missed among his many friends and associates in the entire community.

A loved one from us has gone. A voice we loved is still. A place is vacant in the home That never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled The boon his love has given. The body slumbers here, His soul is safe in Heaven.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Facing at one time or another the authority of the senate, five well-known men appeared headed toward punishment today as a result of the supreme court's decision upholding the power of congressional committees to compel attendance of witnesses at their far-flung investigations.

The list of men threatened with prison sentences under contempt proceedings, includes Samuel Inault, multimillionaire head of Illinois public utilities; Robert U. Crowe, state attorney of Chicago; Harry P. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil man; Thomas F. Cunningham, clerk of the quarter session court of Philadelphia; and Mal S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney general.

In the opinion of the senate's constitutional authorities, the decision, while made directly upon the case of Mal Daugherty, had even greater effect on the contempt case against Sinclair, now pending in the District of Columbia Supreme Court. The decision, according to Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, virtually blocks every avenue by which Sinclair might escape a jail term on the pending contempt charge.

"The decision settles once and for all the authority of the senate to investigate on behalf of legislation and its right to subpoena witnesses and to take testimony," said Walsh. "I feel it removes the only serious question in the prosecution of Mr. Sinclair for refusing to testify. It will apply equally well against every other person who defied the senate's power to compel testimony."

C. B. KING TALKS BEFORE SHOVEL CLUB BANQUET

Address Covers Social Life in Paris; 150 Officials and Employees Attend

An interesting talk by Charles B. King, vice president and general manager of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., on life and customs in Paris, was the outstanding feature of a program which followed the monthly banquet of the company's department heads and other employees, Monday night. The dinner and program, arranged by the Marion Steam Shovel Club, took place in the restaurant room in the company's office building. About 150 officials and employees and a number of guests were in attendance.

Mr. King's talk, relating chiefly to social life in Paris, was based upon his observations during a recent European trip of several months. He also touched upon interesting phases of life in Russia, Hungary and other overseas countries.

Special Music

A special entertainment feature was a program of music and comedy by the Capital City Chorus of Columbus. The quartet, consisting of four negro entertainers, occupied the stage for more than a half hour, giving a varied program of vocal and instrumental selections ranging from old-time plantation melodies to modern jazz music.

The opening feature of the after-dinner program was a vocal solo by Miss Mildred Knapke with piano accompaniment by Miss Mildred Kahl.

Emory E. Murphy, assistant superintendent of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. and president of the club, presided on toastmaster. Frank Carroll was chairman of the committee in charge of dinner arrangements.

Ralph Parlette, noted humorist, is scheduled to give a talk following the club's next monthly dinner in February.
